

IDEA Public Schools Projected Accountability Ratings: 2023-2024

The Texas Education Agency (TEA) has not publicly released school accountability ratings for the 2023-24 school year due to a lawsuit filed in August 2024. However, standing with Texas families, educators and taxpayers who deserve to know how the state’s public schools are performing, IDEA Public Schools proactively confirmed data results and a projected rating for each campus with the TEA to gain a comprehensive overview of district and campus performance to share with families. While we project that 63% of IDEA schools in Texas earned an A or B this past year — a smaller percentage than the 71% the year before, we believe in sharing these results regardless of performance.

District Highlights

- 63% of our schools earned an ‘A’ or ‘B’ Rating
- 75% of students’ tests earned Approaches
- 47% of students’ tests earned Meets
- 18% of students’ tests earned Masters

As a district, IDEA also received a scaled score in three performance areas: Student Achievement, School Progress, and Closing the Gaps and an overall letter grade:

- Domain I: Student Achievement: 78
- Domain II: School Progress | Academic Growth: 83
- Domain III: Closing the Gap: 81
- IDEA District Accountability Rating Score: 82 (B)
- 17 of our high schools earned a perfect 100 scale score in their Domain 1 College, Career, Military Readiness component
- 52,187 | 65% of our currently enrolled students are learning in an A or B school

Following the release of STAAR results in June, IDEA Public Schools launched a comprehensive improvement plan in partnership with a diverse team of educators and administrators from across Texas. We are focused on a strong and strategic approach this school year so that we increase the number of A and B schools by eliminating our D and F schools. The table below illustrates letter grade performance year over year.

Campus Ratings	A (90-100)	B (80-89)	C (70-79)	D (60-69)	F (50-59)
2023	37%	34%	20%	7%	2%
2024	22%	41%	20%	13%	4%
